“ Our family had known Christopher for about 20 years. He was a great artist and had done many paintings and even portraits over the years. He was a very good wood carver and had made very nice pieces. He also composed some of his own music. He was so kind to our grandmother when she was alive and we will never forget that. We always knew him as a good christian man.

“ I knew Chris since High School Even if he had problems later in life he was always polite and nice to everyone. He love painting pictures of indians , he even gave himself a Indian name Chris Eagle Smith he said he was relative of Captain James Smith and Pocihantis. He love the simple beauty of a flower and of all Gods creations.He loved to write songs and play guitar. He even wrote a book "Friendly Fire" with his wild imagination. Sorry to his family.

I will always see your smile, hear your laughter, remember how much you loved to dance, and what a big heart you opened to everyone.
Love you always and forever Chris.
