“ I want to send my deepest sympathy to the Webb family. I know you do not know me but my name is Barry Becker and I worked with Claude for alot of years in R&D out at Motor Coach Industries. Claude had a very good sense of humor and was always willing to help someone if they needed it.

When I first started in R&D our supervisor gave me instructions to make a bracket for mounting the horns. After making the bracket the supervisor told me that was not what he wanted and proceeded to tell me again what he wanted which to me did not make sense. I noticed Claude was smiling. I asked him if he knew what the supervisor wanted? Claude said "yes" I said "What was wrong with the way I did it?" Claude said "nothing" I asked Claude if he could make the bracket for me. Claude said he would. Claude made the bracket and gave it to me. I said are you sure this is what he wanted? Claude said it was so I said OK. I mounted the horns on the bracket that Claude made. The supervisor comes by and says Barry very good that is exactly the way I wanted it done. I looked at Claude shook my head he laughed, I laughed, I thanked Claude. I felt like I made a friend that I could trust.
