“My condolences to Phillip Raimer family. I took care of Phillip through AmberCare Home Health, I really am going to miss Phillip. He was a man of Honor, his personality was timeless, he would tell me all of his story's of his time in the Army and his time as a truck driver, his time riding his mortercycle, and the times he was married and he always mentioned the time he raised his kids. He was a proud man and a proud father and he did love his family very much. PJ he was proud of you and the time he spent with you this last year of his life was very special to him, you know he had the spirit of an eagle and a wolf, he sure did spend a lot of time talking about the medicine man of the Indian tribes. Phillip I am going to miss you dearly and I enjoyed taking care of you, I will never forget, the first time I went to your little apartment to meet you, you sat me down and said now the other young lady that was here taking care me, came one day and never returned and you told me you showed her your gun for your protection and you said I have this gun are you going to run off also. I said no Phillip I am here to take care of you and your gun does not bother me. And you said, thank god for that and you said good you are a keeper. I also need to metion his next door neighbor and your best friend Dave Rice, the both of you together were a riot, Dave took care of day in and day out, he always made sure you ate the food he woukd cook for you and he also made sure you got to your chemo and radiation treatments and he made sure you got to the store. So you fought the fight of cancer and you were not afaired. Now go fly with the eagles, you are free now. May you Rest. In. Peace. Love you Phllip. Your caretaker and friend. Pilar J Harris.
