To my dear Aunt Ruby,

What a beautiful woman of God you were. "Ruby"-what a fitting name Grandpa Ben and Grandma Sofie gave you. I've no doubt that you are now wearing a crown filled with the most beautiful rubies. You were a woman of quiet strength- a woman who loved her husband and family to the end. You taught all of us so much by the way you lived your life. You taught us to keep God and family first. You taught us that the simple life is the best life.

Our hearts our so broken that we were not physically with you in the end. I know my mom was so happy to greet you with lots of hugs laughs. Heaven becomes a more beautiful place every day!

"She is more precious than rubies; nothing you desire can compare with her." Proverbs 3:15
