Ruby, you touched our hearts in such a way that there are not enough words to describe it. You will be missed very much by many and loved forever. When you grew tired from fighting a long brave battle, Jesus took your hand and said You can come home now, and he took away your tumors. You are now in heaven with all the ones that went on before you and you now see what God and Jesus look like while the rest of us can only imagine. Always in my heart, never forgotten. Love you and miss you.
